RELEASE IN PART B5,B6

B6

From:	H < brod17@c	:lintonemail.com>
Sent:	Thursday, February 11, 2010 11:44 AM 'millscd@state.gov'
T o :
Subject:
	•	•		-
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·		B5
Also Rill thought he was going to	hear from you	today about the coo	dination/leadership mechanism for Haiti. Is th	B6 right?	Theat from you	today about the coo	unation/leadership mechanish for haiti. Is th	Idl
Original Message
From: Mills, Cheryl D < MillsCD@	state.gov>
To: H Sent: Thu Feb 11 11:33:59 2010
Subject: FW: USA Today op-ed sigh
Original Message
From: Irwin Redlener (mailto:				ŀ
Sent: Thursday, February 11, 20:	10 10:11 AM
To: Mills, Cheryl D Cc: Laszczych, Joanne			·
Subject: Re: USA Today op-ed
OK. I'm in Jamaica, but try my ce 535-9707.	41	- sometimes OK, so	metimes not. Otherwise call my office in NYC (	(212)
Look forward to speaking with y	OU.
Irwin
			_
Mills Chamil Daymata
Mills, Cheryl D wrote: > I continue to think this is an ar	e we need heln		rather than generalized disaster assistance.	- Tre field field		rather than Scheralized disuster >   will call you today both to sha	are my thoughts	s on your proposal, wi	nich I feel we have discussed b/f b/c it is simila	r to what I advised was not quite ou				- 10
> The growt is alread to day by till	ا المحالم منهم	and and the second	Paris at Communication (1979) (b) 1977	Al
> The govt is closed today but I I airport.	iave calls all day	y and am sked to fly to	Rome at 5pm so will likely call en route or at	tne

UNCLASSIFIED U.S. Department of State Case No. F-2014-20439 Doc No. C05773881 Date: 01/07/2016

B6

```
>
> Cdm
> Best
> Cdm
> ---- Original Message -----
> From: Irwin Redlener <
> To: Abedin, Huma; Mills, Cheryl D
> Sent: Wed Feb 10 20:53:03 2010
> Subject: USA Today op-ed
> This was in today's edition of USA Today. Please share with Hillary if > she hasn't seen it.
> Best,
> Irwin
               As Haiti recovers, give children special attention
> By Irwin Redlener
> Given the extraordinary destruction wrought by last month's earthquake > in Haiti, few will be surprised if this catastrophe is recorded as one > of the deadliest natural disasters in recent history. But what is not > well appreciated is that this disaster could disproportionately impact > children, not only those who perished in the initial shocks, but also > those who will not survive what is likely to be a cruel aftermath.
> Photo gallery:
>   <a href="http://mediagallery.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usatoday.usa
> As Haiti struggled to pull itself together in the days immediately > following the 7.0 earthquake that hit the island nation, one lowa > family was waiting to hear whether the child they had pledged to adopt > three years ago was still alive.
> Before the quake, many of the 380,000 children living in shelters >   were placed there out of economic desperation; families could not > afford to care for them. Now, many more children displaced by the > earthquake will literally have no surviving family members, further > swelling demand on social service agencies throughout the country.
> Kids at risk
> As the U.S. and other countries make plans to help Haiti get back on > its feet, emphasis should be on enhancing that nation's resiliency — > and that will mean dealing with the needs of its children. The unusual > extent of child casualties will be driven by several factors:
>
> • About 50% of the Haitian population of 9 million is younger than 18 > < http://www.unicef.org/emerg/haiti_52590.html>. Even more striking is > the fact that children 14 years of age and less make up more than 38%.
```

UNCLASSIFIED U.S. Department of State Case No. F-2014-20439 Doc No. C05773881 Date: 01/07/2016

```
>
> • Everything about a natural disaster puts children at greater risk. A > comparatively small chunk of dislodged ceiling would injure an adult, > but it might well kill an infant or small child. Water deprivation > will lead far more rapidly to dehydration and shock in an infant than > it would in an adult.
> • Some seriously injured children have survived the initial trauma > because they were among the few to get surgical attention provided by > international medical teams. But access to follow-up care could be an > overwhelming challenge. Compounding concerns, the Ministry of Health > at one point asked physicians not to provide medical care > < http://www.usatoday.com/news/health/2010-01-27-1Acomfort27_CV_N.htm>
> that can't be sustained in Haiti.
> Long-term needs > Between 1 million to 2 million Haitians will be "displaced" for the > foreseeable future. This means a minimum of 400,000 to 800,000 > children will be in temporary shelter for months or years. But the > rainy season is coming in May, followed by hurricane season in June.
> Families in tents or other flimsy shelters will be at grave risk.
> • What about the psychological impact? Grieving over loss and trauma > carries the potential of long-term consequences for every Haitian, > especially the countless children.
>
> Then there are Haiti's chronic problems that must be addressed head-on.
> For decades, Haitians have experienced a seemingly intractable state > of poverty, accompanied by malnutrition and high rates of acute and > chronic illness. More than 50% of Haitians live on less than a dollar > a day, and more than 60% of its young children have nutritional anemia.
>
> Despite the efforts of international agencies and non-governmental > organizations, chronic illness abounds and access to clean water, > medical care and sanitation remains a significant challenge for > Haitians, particularly children.
>
> This is why the recovery and rebuilding of this fragile nation must > begin and end with a central focus on the immediate and long-term > needs of children. If there is to be a glimmer of hope for Haiti, it > will be because the international community understands that the > capacity to rise from the ashes of catastrophe is directly related to > the health, well-being and potential of its youngest generation.
> /Irwin Redlener is the director of the National Center for Disaster > Preparedness, Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health, and > president of the Children's Health Fund./
> /(Getty Images.)/
> Posted at 12:15 AM/ET, February 10, 2010 in Foreign Affairs - Latin > America - Forum
```

- > http://blogs.usatoday.com/oped/foreign_affairs_latin_america_forum/>,
- > Forum commentary < http://blogs.usatoday.com/oped/forum_commentary/> |
- > Permalink
- > < http://blogs.usatoday.com/oped/2010/02/column-as-haiti-recovers-give-
- > children-special-attention-.html>
- > USA TODAY welcomes your views and encourages lively -- but civil --
- > discussions. Comments are unedited, but submissions reporte
- >